Aperture Technologies to Host Data Center Best Practices Seminars

Sessions will feature practices for optimizing data center operations and tackling power and cooling challenges in today's data centers

Stamford, CT – October 31, 2006 – Aperture Technologies Inc., the leading provider of enterprise software solutions that enable organizations worldwide to manage the physical infrastructure of their data centers, today announced it will host a Data Center Best Practices Seminar Series geared for IT and data center executives. The seminars will feature thought leaders and innovators who will share cutting-edge content on data center best practices.

Paul Schlattman, technical program consultant, Environmental Systems Design; Mike Kuppinger, senior vice president, Mission Critical Facilities Group; Ron Coupe, vice president, Data Center Operations, JPMC; and Reg Overman, Director, Strategic Channel Partners, Unisys are just some of the speakers for the upcoming sessions.

Mr. Schlattman and Mr. Kuppinger will host seminars in Chicago and Minneapolis that will educate attendees about issues such as:

- Design of complex data centers
- Managing and monitoring complex data center systems infrastructure
- Integrating IT assets with building infrastructure systems
- Integrating the assets and infrastructure of multiple data centers

Additionally, Mr. Coupe will give a presentation at the New York Seminar addressing:

- Utilization and efficiency in the raised floor environment
- Planning for technology deployment on the raised floor
- Communication between IT and real estate/facilities

The seminar series will be hosted in major U.S. cities, including Chicago, Minneapolis, New York and outside of Washington, D.C. The first four seminars are scheduled as follows:

8:00 -11:30 a.m. CST, November 7, 2006, at the Marriott Hickory Ridge Conference Center in Lisle, IL
8:00 -11:30 a.m. CST, November 8, 2006, at the Northland Inn in Minneapolis, MN
8:00 -11:30 a.m. EST, December 5, 2006, at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, NY
8:00 – 11:30 a.m. EST, December 6, 2006, at the Embassy Suites in Alexandria, VA
